

Grand Original Globe

The Grand Original Globe is the larger scale iconic reproduction of an antique original lantern, dating from the 1830s, which began the Jamb story. There have been many iterations of the famous Globe; with various of moulding, embellishment, finial and finish, but never, until now, on such a grand scale. Here we see slim bronze mouldings, hand patinated to look like Verdigris, holding twelve hand-blown panes of curved glass, while a gold band of intricately pierced brass guilloche circles the body of the lantern. Its elegant gadroon-moulded chimney hangs from a leaf cast ceiling rose.
